FOCUSING ON BETTER PICTURES

"BEFORE SHOOTING" CHECKLIST:

Note: If your camera is new, take pictures and have them developed before your vacation to make sure that the camera is functioning properly and that you know how to operate it.

1. Before loading, make sure camera is clean inside. If necessary, use a soft brush, a lintless cloth or tissue to clean it. To clean the lens, blow off dust first, then wipe it gently with lens tissue; use a drop of lens cleaning fluid, if available.
2. Take along plenty of fresh film (note expiration date on film box). Store film and loaded camera in a cool, dry place; never in the glove compartment, trunk, or on the rear deck of a car.
3. Carry an extra battery (if your camera needs one). Before installing, and at regular intervals thereafter, clean camera contacts and both ends of battery with rough cloth or pencil eraser.
4. Load camera in the shade, avoid direct sunlight. If no other shade is available, shield camera from sun with your body while loading.
5. Make sure you load camera properly. Check "Loading Film" section of camera instruction book.
6. On 35 mm cameras, observe rewind knob: it should revolve every time the film is advanced. If it does not revolve, reload camera, following instructions carefully.
7. Remove lens cap and make sure that fingers, camera case or strap do not block camera lens.

WHILE YOU ARE SHOOTING:

1. Hold camera level and steady. Depress shutter release with a slow, even pressure, not with a sudden push. Use a tripod and cable release, where feasible.
2. What you see in the viewfinder will be in your picture: include only what you intend to photograph. When you photograph your family in front of a large background (like the Castle), ask them to stand closer to the camera (about ten feet away) to keep them recognizable in the picture. To get into the picture yourself, use the self-timer on your camera or ask someone to take the picture for you.
3. Taking pictures in the right light is very important. Illumination is most pleasing from one hour after sunrise to 11 A.M. and from 2:30 P.M. to one hour before sunset. Take pictures with the sun at either side of the subject, where possible.
4. Keep the background simple; try to prevent objects from interfering with the outlines of the subject: a lamp post appearing to "grow out" of the head of your subject, for example, can be disturbing.

5. Let people do something, rather than just pose in front of the camera.

TIPS FOR MOVIEMAKERS:

1. Depress trigger release slowly, use a tripod (where possible) to prevent a jumpy screen image, or steady camera by placing your elbows on a firm support.
2. Use the zoom feature sparingly, only when zooming contributes to the actions.

WRONG AND RIGHT WAY TO USE BACKGROUND.

3. Panning, moving the camera from side to side to show a large area, must be done very s-l-o-w-l-y, otherwise the image will be blurred.
4. Use fresh batteries in your movie camera. It is good practice to carry a spare set of batteries. With spring-motor cameras, wind motor after each scene.
5. Vary scene length to provide a change of pace. Optimum scene length runs from 5 to 12 seconds, depending on the subject. For subjects that require prolonged coverage (the Jungle Cruise, for example) shoot enough scenes to do the subject, but do not extend individual scenes beyond approximately 10 seconds.

SLIDE OR MOVIE PROJECTION OF ACTION SCENES CAN BE EXCITING AND DRAMATIC

WHEN YOU GET HOME:

1. Have films developed immediately.
2. Whether you show prints, slides, or a movie, organize your material before showing it. Arrange pictures, slides, and edit film footage according to subject (Adventureland, Fantasyland, Tomorrowland, etc.), eliminate repetition and portions that are unsatisfactory (blurred, over- or underexposed, etc.). Prevent audience boredom by showing only your best efforts and by keeping the show varied, interesting, and short.

Note: Flash photography is not permitted in most Disneyland indoor attractions.
