

INSURANCE IS ONE PRODUCT YOU BUY
HOPING YOU'LL NEVER HAVE TO USE IT

Nobody likes to think about a wrecked car, or a burned-out home or business. So nobody likes to think about insurance.

But if those things are difficult to think about before they happen, imagine how difficult they are to deal with when they happen.

That's why one of the most critical decisions you'll make in buying insurance is choosing the company to buy it from.

At INA we've had enough experience over the past 180 years to realize that it often takes more than paying a claim to help people overcome the tragedies that strike.

At the very least it requires an understanding that the loss is often more than monetary. At the most, it can mean helping people build an entirely new life out of what remains.

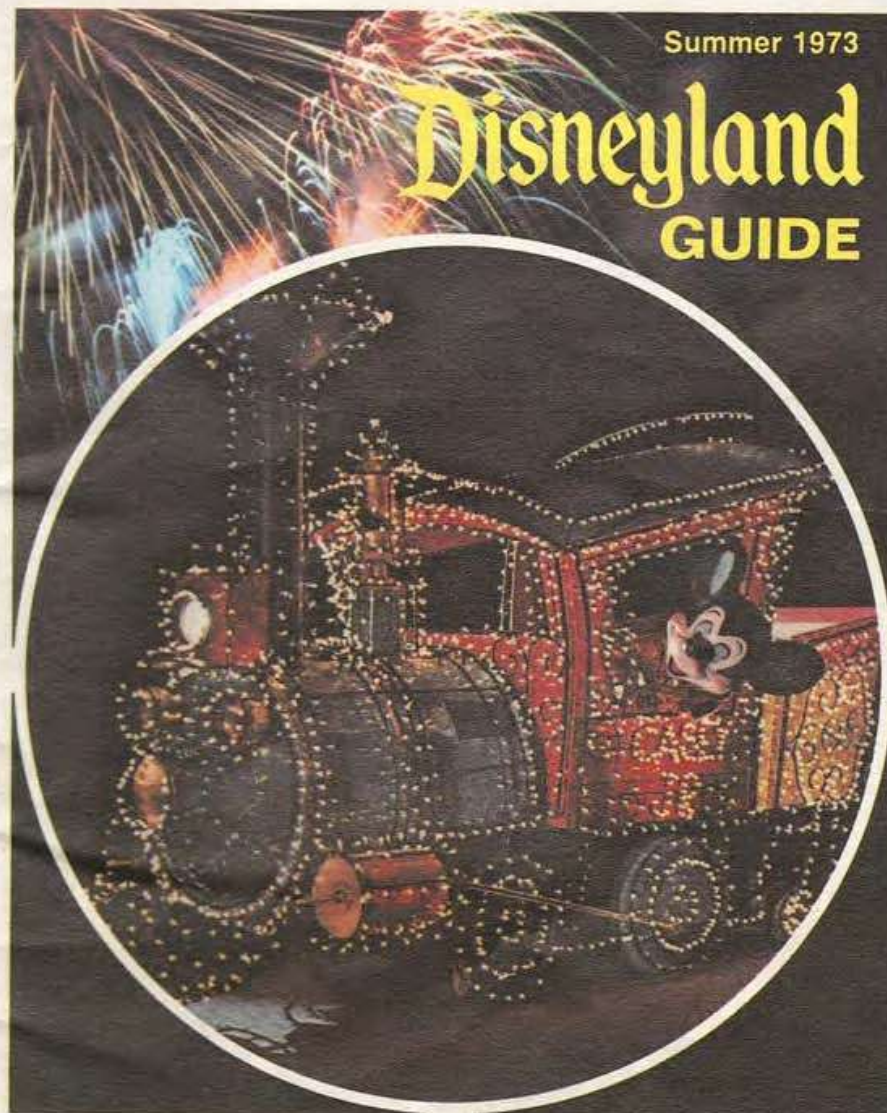

That's something we've done on countless occasions. Because at INA we've found that while that may mean more work for us, it also means more business.

Where an insurance policy is more than just a piece of paper.
